Discretionary services:

- Systematic : In systematic investments we manage your portfolio based on a set of several well-known trading strategies that offer a sound academic and scientific background. Throughout the years we have implemented and applied these strategies ourselves. The benefits of systematic strategies are well-known as they eliminate the behavioural bias, reduce costs and increase the probability of profit in a longer investment horizon
- Tactical: In this type of service, we take decisions to manage your portfolio based on our own views about the markets. Our primary instrument is through options such as VIX as well S&P 500. We form our views based on market news, fundamentals about the economy and expert opinion

STRUCTURED NOTES

Structured notes offer indirect access to alternative risk premia (particularly correlation and volatility) something that can be explored in your portfolio allocations. In recent years, sophisticated investors private, as well as institutions, are using alternative sources of risk to enhance performance on their portfolios.

Our company has established relationships with large structuring vendors that offer products issued by top tier banks (Goldman, Citi, JP morgan, CS and others). This makes pricing more transparent and competitive for our clients.
